RETURN OF DELEGATES. - Most of the delegates from this city to the Radical Convention in Richmond, which adjourned last night, have returned, and from one of them, the following epitome of the proceedings of that remarkable body is obtained. He gives it from his stand point:

"The result of the Republican Convention is as follows: A large-attendance of white and colored delegates, some of those heretofore considered the best men of the State (?) were there, disposed cordially to co-operate with the Republican Party. Among them Mr. Terrell, of Orrange. The Southwest was largely represented. The first day of the session Hawxhurst, Tucker and Co., marched up to the African Church, with Hunnicutt and others, abount 11 o'clock, let themselves in, and immediately there was such a crowd of colored delegates together with the colored population of Richmond, that they occupied the entire house, within five minutes, all of the Tobacco Factories being closed that day, whether by design or request is not known. It was found that there was no room for delegates from a distance. As there was no room in the city of Richmond large enough to hold the Convention, they decided to adjourn to the Capitol square, where the business was proceeded with. The second day all was harmoniously arranged as far as could be, but the opinion of all the discreet sult. Yesterday the contract for the agriculpresent, white and colored delegates, was that | tural building was awarded to Mr. F. A. Gibthere should be no more mass Conventions.

"The course pursued by Messrs. Hawshurst and Tucker, of this city, was severely censured by a large majority of the white and many of the colored delegates, and the fruition of their political aspirations will be seriously obstructed. Among the delegates from Alexandria present, were: Gen. H. H. Wells, Lewis McKenzie, W. A. Duncan, W. D. Massey, Charles Whit tiesey, George Tucker and John Hawshurst, white; and R. D. Beckley, George Seaton, George Simms and George Parker, colored.'

MAJOR A. H. JOHNSON.—The following well merited complimentary notice of Major Hunter Johnson, son of J. M. Johnson, esq. formerly of this city, is taken from the Rock ingham Register:

"The many friends of Major Hunter John son, in this portion of the Valley will be pleased to learn that he is retained in his position as Chief Engineer of the Manassas Gap Railroad, under the new arrangement just consummated, by which the road is to be speedily completed to its terminus - Harrisonburg. Maj. Johnson has been connected with this improvement from its earliest inception, and by his energy and efficiency did much towards forwarding its interests previous to the war and until its partial destruction by military orders. His retention on the work as its Chief Engineer will give assurance of rapid progress in its completion, and the realization of the long deferred, yet earnestly cherished hopes of our people."
